

Sung Tieu: The Scaffold of Ruin

MAY 9, 2026

Bravo, Sung!

Vitali Gelwich traveled to Venice to photograph Sung Tieu during the installation of “Ruin,” the Berlin artist’s joint exhibition with the late Henrike Naumann for the German Pavilion at the Venice Biennale. The 61st edition of the international art exhibition officially opens to the public today, May 9.

Credits

Photography: VITALI GELWICH
Talent: SUNG TIEU
Photography Assistant: FABIAN DOTZLER

Related Content

Erwan Sene's Sonic Odyssey
December 15, 2023

Jan Vorisek's Devotion Strategy
January 31, 2024

Discovering the Aura with Puppies Puppies (Jade Guanaro Kuriki-Olivo)
April 30, 2024

Christelle Oyiri: "All life comes from rupture"
March 25, 2026

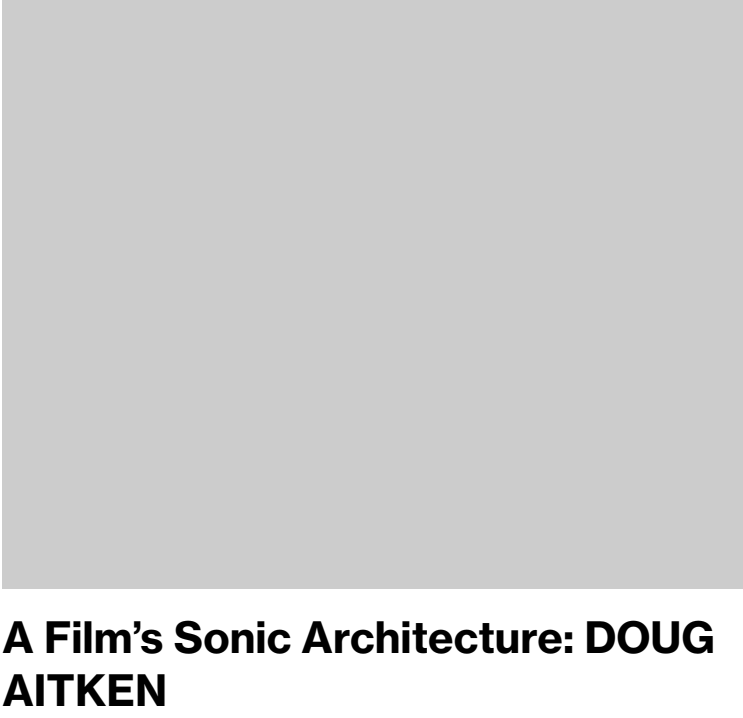

Rave, Relic, Reel: Paranormal Frequencies in Mark Leckey's Latest Works
July 21, 2025

Gross AI Spam with Cory Arcangel
June 3, 2024

Who Is an American Artist?
August 20, 2024

A Film's Sonic Architecture: DOUG AITKEN
July 13, 2023

Mire Lee's Fountain of Filth
October 9, 2024

AI Is a Giant Meat Grinder: Katja Novitskova
July 17, 2025

Venice Architecture Biennale 2016: the Arrival of the Arrival City
June 3, 2016

The Split Between the Self and Its Image: Jonas Wendelin
December 18, 2024